
A FOUNDING PARTNER INVITATION

A better way for people to find care.

Separate from your website, and with no cost or obligation. This is the bigger thing I am building, and I would love you to be part of it from day one.

01 The problem

"I'm in pain today. Who can actually see me, near me, this week?"

When someone needs a chiropractor, physio, or massage therapist, finding the right one nearby and booking quickly is harder than it should be. People guess, scroll Google, call around, and check clinic by clinic. Many give up or wait weeks. Good practitioners stay hidden, and patients in pain wait longer than they should.

02 The idea: one front door for wellness

01

Find

Search by what hurts and how far you'll travel. We recommend the right practitioner near you.

02

Book

See real availability and book in two or three taps. Same-day when it exists.

03

Arrive ready

Intake filled in advance, so the first visit is care, not paperwork.

A single, trusted place for patients, that quietly sends the right practitioner the right patients.

03 What it means for you

- Free to be listed. Always. No cost to you, ever, for being on the platform.
- Nothing to change. Keep Jane and everything you already use. We work on top of it.
- New patients, your relationship. We help people find you; the patient is yours.
- A real say. As a founding partner, your input shapes how it is built.

04 Why you

Thirty years of care, a practitioner people trust, in the exact neighborhood I want to start with. You help me get the first version right, and you are first in line for every patient it brings. The best products are built with the people who use them, and I would rather build this with you than for you.

No cost, no obligation, no pressure

This is completely separate from your website. There is nothing to sign and nothing to pay. It is simply an open door, whenever you are curious. If the timing is not right, that changes nothing about the work we are already doing together.

Wolf Codes Inc. · adam@wolfcodes.ca · Vancouver, BC · Built to make this city, and its people, a little healthier.